

International social work and social development - teaching and learning for a globalised world

EASSW Workshop 29 June 2017

Roma Thomas, Aisha Hutchinson, Katarina hollertz

Agenda

- Introduction
- Brief overview of the two master programmes
- Key issues
- Teaching methods

Bedfordshire

- One year full-time, plus part-time option
- Current intake 12 students from all over the world (including UK)
- Running for 3 years

Gothenburg

- Two years full-time
- Current intake 25 students from all over the world (including Sweden)
- Running for 20 years

Key issues teaching international social work and social development

- A diverse student group
- A masters course that qualifies, for what?

Teaching methods - two examples

- World Social Work Day Poster Assignment
- Thesis seminar

Thesis topics include:

Perceptions of frontline social workers in Gothenburg on their contributions towards the Global Agenda for social work and social development

Perceptions of sanitation structures among poor populations in Lusaka, Zambia: A qualitative interview study

Exploration of coping strategies by Burundian immigrants to get integrated into the Swedish society. A case study - Gothenburg Sweden

Thank You

roma.thomas@beds.ac.uk

aisha.hutchinson@beds.ac.uk katarina.hollertz@socwork.gu.se